Beans And Sweet Corn Prices Are At A Profitable Stage

Glades growers who have sweet corn ready for the northern markets this week are "getting well." The delectable offering is bringing $3.75 per crate in the Glades and this price shows a nice profit for the grower.

Prices on green snap beans have been on the rise for the past few days. This week fancy beans were being bought from the grower at a price range of $3.25 to $3.50 and this price, too, allows the grower a nice profit.

Celery, produced in great quantity in the Glades, is beginning to bring a price profitable to the growers. Peppers are bringing around $5.00.

On Monday of this week there were shipments equaling 161 cars out of the Glades. Of this total there were four beans, 18 cabbage, 10 corn, 71 celery and the balance was made up of leafy vegetables, potatoes and radishes.

Shipments up through Monday of this week were a little behind last year's total of 9,076 to this date. So far this season the Monday there have been only 10 cars sent to the frigid climes to the northland.

Airport Road Gets New Asphalt Cover

Contractors have completed the leveling course on Airport Road north of Belle Glade for a distance of two miles, according to County Commissioner Paul Rardin, under whose direction the work is being done. Dixie Asphalt Company of West Palm Beach was low bidder on the job.

The contract calls for the leveling course of plant mixed asphalt to set for 30 days and take the traffic hammering before the final finish course is put on. Heavy concrete trucks have been helping to beat the asphalt into the holes and engineers believe that it is a good idea to wait 30 days before completing the road.

The $13,000,000 new sugar mill of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida is located on Airport Road which was built a few years ago by the county under Mr. Rardin's direction.

Mrs. Lester Hand was a guest of her sister and family in Miami Sunday night.

Over First Hurdle In Boca U. Drive

First hurdle in the campaign to raise $500,000 for the new University at Boca Raton was cleared today, it is reported by C. Robert Burns, campaign chairman.

R. D. (Dick) Hill, West Palm Beach, chairman of the memorial and special gifts division, and William H. Hallman, Boca Raton area chairman, reported that a total of $98,225 in cash gifts and pledges had been made to date. It is anticipated that additional cash gifts to bring the total of funds on hand to $87,000 will be made by February 15.

This means, Burns said that the way will then be clear for architects to draw up the final working plans for actual construction of the first buildings on the 1,000-acre campus in Boca Raton.

"This total, however," Burns pointed out, "is only one-fifth of the amount needed to open the University on schedule in September of 1964 thus avoiding a possible two-year delay."

"Between now and the end of March we need funds to pay salaries to a University president, a minimum corps of faculty and administrative personnel, and secretarial staff," he said.

Burns immediately dispatched a report to Governor Farris Bryant. It was at the Governor's request that the campaign for public subscriptions for the University was launched.

In his telegram to the Governor, Burns predicted, "The people of the Boca Raton area alone will contribute at least $150,000 to the new University. We have every confidence that other residents of the Palm Beach — Broward — Dade community will more than carry their share in contributing to your program and meeting your time schedule for Boca Raton."

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new  $3\frac{3}{4}\%$  interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to  $2\frac{1}{2}\%$  for the first year and a half, then a guaranteed  $4\%$  each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic  $1\frac{1}{2}\%$  increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Home Demonstration Club Formed The Pahokee - Canal Point Area

Palm Beach County Home Demonstration clubs won twelve blue ribbons for their fair exhibits January 31. Miss Mary Todd, Home Demonstration Agent, announced the awards, congratulated each of the clubs for their excellent displays, and said that each club will receive top prizes of $30.00 for their exhibits. Mrs. Joseph Kincl served as Fair Chairman this year, helping the clubs to plan and organize their efforts.

The Four Points Club featured "Planning Ahead for Survival" showing food and supplies needed for a two weeks' period in a fall-out shelter. Mrs. H. Nielsen directed plans for the exhibit. "Home is the Key to Better Living" was depicted by the Homemakers with a small scale-model home, complete with lighted fireplace, and miniature furniture. Mrs. J. L. Faulkner and Mrs. Mary Willis created and set up the display. "How Do You Shape Up?" was the Palm Springs theme. A penal mirror and a pair of scales gave fair goers an opportunity to check their weight and see themselves at the same time. Literature of weight control could also be picked up at the booth. Mrs. Roberta Chenoweth and Mrs. J. Kincl worked out the idea.

Styles in clothing fifty years ago and today's styles were highlighted in the Squire Dance exhibit. Mrs. R. Cullen and Mrs. Donald Bell made several of the garments and even covered a pair of shoes for the 1962 styles. Mrs. Victor DeClercq and Mrs. Emile Wassner set up the County Home Demonstration Council exhibit — "Family Steps to Happiness" — emphasizing love, faith and thoughtfulness. A replica of the famous Liberty Bell, made of sugar and sprayed with gold paint, was the focal point in the Seminole Manor's club exhibit.

hibit. Mrs. Robert Robertson designed the "Let Freedom Ring" display.

Mrs. W. R. Simrell arranged the colorful array of fruit and vegetables for the Military Trail club "For Better Health, Eat Nutritious Foods" was stressed. Mrs. B. Hornsby showed how the homemaker holds the strings to better living in her hands in the idea she presented for the Lake Osborn club. The central figure was a mannequin dressed in a blue shirtwaist dress holding strings radiating to five small tables. On each of the tables were items related to some phase of homemaking — cooking, sewing, gardening, ironing and cleaning.

The steps in furniture refinishing were shown by Delray Beach's "Make Your Discards Clamorous." Mrs. O. D. Waite worked out the idea. Mrs. C. Dickerson and Mrs. V. Rickard of the West Palm Beach Club created a tropical scene showing the many products made from the palm.

Palm Beach County's progress from 1912 until today was shown through a pictorial record of the county yesterday and today. Mrs. R. Clayford and Mrs. June Hatcock of Tropical Acres designed and set up the exhibit. Mrs. Milton Giese and Mrs. D. Alford of Belle Glade tackled a problem that plagues Florida Homemakers — preventing and removing mildew.

*"Today we need a nation of Minute Men . . . .
citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life . . . ."*

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The spiritual significance of events in the life of the Apostle Paul will be brought out at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Spirit" is the Golden Text from II Corinthians (3): "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

Paul's enlightenment is emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including this citation (p. 324): "When the truth first appeared to him in Science, Paul was made blind, and his blindness was felt; but spiritual light soon enabled him to follow the example and teachings of Jesus, healing the sick and preaching Christianity throughout Asia Minor, Greece, and even in Imperial Rome."

"I wouldn't be without my FLAMELESS ELECTRIC DRYER"

Just look at my next door neighbor. The pity is that her wash was almost dry. Then w-o-o-s-h...a sudden gust of rain!

I've been telling her to get smart and quit lifting, lugging and doing pin-ups on a clothesline.

Let it rain, let it pour, that's what an Electric Dryer is for. A home without a flameless Electric Dryer would seem old-fashioned to me now. Night or day, I can laugh at time and weather. Gone is the pressure of washday. I just pop the towels, linens, shirts, lingerie, blue jeans and my little girl's school dresses into my Electric Dryer and presto!...in no time at all, everything comes out caressingly soft and fresh as a flower. No sun-fade, no wind-damage, no dust-studge, no aching back! And the time saved can be spent in much better ways with my family.

For complete modern-day freedom from washday drudgery, you'll enjoy the "togetherness" of a flameless Electric Dryer, an Electric Washer, an Electric "sit-down" Ironer, and a super-fast, super-safe Electric Water Heater for all this hot water you need when you need it.

THE EVERGLADES NEWS
CANAL POINT

The farm people up in Pennsylvania are not missing any bets. Latest story from the Keystone state is indicative of how progressive educational, research and producer forces have joined up to put farming operations on a more profitable basis.

As reported by the agricultural agent in Montgomery county, Penn State's electronic brain was utilized for linear programming—a "mathematical method of maximizing farm income." To demonstrate the effectiveness of the new idea, two family-operated dairy farms were used.

Scores of details on the farming operations were assembled—size, soil fertility, labor limitations, amount of capital, extent of credit, production per cow, feed costs, price of milk, etc. These and many other facts were fed into the electronic brain.

According to the agent's report of the experiments, the device flashed, calculated, punched and out came the details of possible profitable farm organization. To an experienced dairyman it might not be surprising to learn that the basic answer in both cases indicated the most profit would be made by milking a large number of high producing dairy cows.

An interesting sidelight, however, is that in both instances low-profit poultry operations were dropped so that the owner's efforts could be concentrated on improving the dairy end of the business.

Turkey raising was dropped on farm A and cow numbers were gradually increased from 50 to 96. Use of 125 acres of cropland was adjusted, the large turkey pen was converted to a loafing area for cows, silage storage was added and grain was purchased for feed. The results were a spectacular increase in farm income with slightly less family labor and no additional hired help.

Application of the electronic brain's answer to farm B resulted in dropping a broiler raising operation, remodeling a 150-year-old barn to house 60 instead of 40 cows and using additional land for high producing silage crops.

"The need for effective farm management programs is acute in our county which borders Philadelphia," the county agent reports. "Farm real estate is valued from $400 to $2,000 an acre, taxes are high, as are other costs, but markets are good."

Then he adds the real clincher: "These facts necessitate topnotch management."

So, when you come right down to the bedrock of profitable farm operation, "topnotch management" is the answer and you don't need an electronic burn to figure that one out. It's the use of electronics to guide a progressive, intelligent farm manager that is interesting in the report from Pennsylvania. And I wouldn't be surprised to see this idea expanded greatly where such equipment is available to provide help to agriculture.

Industry is putting electronics to work in every conceivable fashion. Out in Washington state a packing equipment company is demonstrating a newly developed electronic "eyes," color readings are taken and averaged by the mechanism. Low color (for culls), fancy color and extra fancy color fruit is separated and the packing house can turn out 4500 to 5500 boxes of carefully sorted fruit in a 7½ hour shift.

In Florida the citrus industry has been told by a manufacturer it has developed an electronic device to determine the juice and soluble solids contents of oranges without destroying the fruit. It claims the device is small enough to take into a grove for a field test of internal fruit quality.

If such a device really delivers the goods, it could go far in preventing heavy "dumping" of early season fruit that has failed to meet inspection requirements in the past after it had reached the packing house. There would be little excuse for picking citrus too early if an electronic test could give a reliable report as to its condition.

Paul B. Dickman Farms at Ruskin, Florida, gets a two-page spread in Produce Marketing magazine, for its success in pioneering the quick movement of "consumer-unit" packaged vegetables from farm to retail market.

Dickman's operation sends four refrigerated trucks twice weekly to about 300 stores within a 100-mile radius delivering vegetables which were picked and packaged the day before. That's what you'd call "farm fresh."

Dickman's success is another example of utilizing research to develop the highest possible efficiency. Soon after he started the present operation, his packing house was headquarters for U. S. Department of Agriculture and Florida Experiment Station specialists who spent two years there researching practically every facet of packaging.
